PART ONE

<Question 1>

Male: I'm so excited about our camping trip this weekend.

Female: Me, too! Did you pack the tent?

Male: No, I lent it to my friend last month. I'll drive over to his house to pick it up later tonight.

<Question 2>

Male: We are expecting very heavy storms this weekend. Roads will be dangerous, and boat and ferry services will be cancelled. We advise you to stay at home, but if you must travel, we recommend traveling by rail, but please book early as trains will be very busy.

<Question 3>

Male: It's not big enough. I can't get everything in.

Female: Well, maybe don't take so many things? Do you need all those books? And why do you need that big jacket?

Male: I like to read when I'm on holiday. And I heard it can get cold at night. I want to take everything.

Female: Well, you'll need to buy a new one, then.

<Question 4>

Female: Can you wait here with the bags? I'm going to change some money.

Male: OK, but hurry up.

Female: Hurry up? We still have two hours before our flight leaves!

Male: I know, but I want to do some shopping first, and I want to get something to eat.

PART TWO

<Questions 5 and 6>

Male: What about this place for our new house? 3 bedrooms, a large kitchen. A 5-minute walk to the station and the shops.

Female: That looks nice. It has a little garden, too. David will enjoy playing there after school. Is it expensive?

Male: It's not too bad, actually. Oh, but it only has space for one car.

Female: Ah, we really need room for both of our cars. That's a shame. It sounded perfect.

<Questions 7 and 8>

Male: That was a great show.

Female: I know! There's nothing better than live music in a big stadium. It was so loud: it sounded great.

Male: I loved it when Bobby talked between the songs. He was so funny.

Female: I know! I didn't want it to end.

<Questions 9 and 10>

Next month at the Central Culture Museum, we will have a special photography exhibition. You can see pictures taken by some of our city's most famous people, such as the dancer Lana Andrews and the movie director Sally Ainsworth. This is a unique collection and it shouldn't be missed! Entrance is $20 for adults. It's half price for high school students, and it's free for elementary students and younger.

<Questions 11 and 12>

There are lots of places to visit in this area. First, you could visit the Red Rock caves. They are said to be over 2 million years old. It doesn't cost anything to visit, and it's fun, but they are dark, a bit scary, and the ground is wet and slippery, so maybe not the best for young children. If you are interested in history, there is also Rockford House, an old home built in 1752. It was made famous in the TV show "The King's Wife". It's only open in the mornings, but if you wanted to, you could visit the Royal Museum afterwards. The Royal Museum is very close to Rockford House and is also popular with many visitors. Finally, Memory Lanes is a historical theme park that is fun for all the family.

PART THREE

<Questions 13 to 15>

Female: Thank you for calling Passaggio Italian restaurant. How can I help you?

Male: Hello. I'd like to book a table for tomorrow at 6pm.

Female: OK. For how many people?

Male: Maybe seven or eight.

Female: I see. We only have space at 5. Is that OK?

Male: Sure. Our meeting finishes at 5, but we're in the office next door, so we might be a few minutes late.

Female: That's fine. Can I take your name, please?

Male: Yes, it's Peter Bonetti, that's B-O-N-E-T-T-I. Bonetti.
